GENERAL SOCIETY SONS OF THE REVOLUTION
AWARDS

Triennial Awards

Modern Patriot Award
Established in 1958
Award: Paul Revere Bowl and a General Society History Book
This award is presented to the non-member individual who, during the current Triennium, has best represented the ideals of the General Society of the Sons of the Revolution.

Patrick Henry Award
Established in 1967
Award: Plaque
This plaque is awarded to that member of the Society who, during the closing Triennium, has done the most toward the accomplishment of the Society's objectives.

Trent Trophy
Established in 1967
Award: Plaque
A plaque is awarded to three state societies (small, medium and large, based on membership size) for exceptional contributions to the purposes and good of the Sons of the Revolution during the period since the preceding Triennial. A small Society has less than 100 members. A medium Society has between 100 and 200 members and a large Society has 200 plus members.

Jay Harris Award
Established in 2000
Award: Plaque
Awarded to an individual, either a member or a non-member, who has made significant contributions to the welfare and objectives of the General Society.

Richard Farmer Hess Award for Leadership and Excellence
Established in 2000
Award: Plaque
A plaque is awarded to three state societies (small, medium and large, based on membership size) Recognizes those state societies that have demonstrated leadership excellence in the operation and management of their society. A small Society has less than 100 members. A medium Society has between 100 and 200 members and a large Society has 200 plus members.

Membership Achievement Award
Established in 2006
Award: Plaque
This award is given to two State Societies; one with the greatest number of new members and the other to the Society with the greatest percentage of new membership

President's Star
The outgoing General President presents the Presidents Star to the newly elected General President. The outgoing General President is presented with the Past President's Star.

Annual Awards

Children of the American Revolution Travelling Banner Award
Established in 1980
Award: Certificate
This award is given to the C.A.R. State Society with the largest number of members joining the Sons of the Revolution from among the qualifying male members of the Children of the American Revolution. This award has been presented as merited since 1981 at the annual CAR Congress held in April in Washington, DC.

Annapolis Cup
Established in 1905
Award: Paul Revere Bowl
The Triennial of 1911 renewed a special relationship with the United States Naval Academy to award annually to the Midshipman "most proficient in great gun practice". In the course of time the qualifications for this trophy have changed with advances in weapons technology. The current criterion is "Excellence in Systems Engineering".